GOING GREEN!
by Catherine Clarke Fox

When I told my mother I was going to be a vegetarian she didn't try to discourage me. she simply said. "Fine, but I'm not making two dinners<sup>1</sup>". She thought it was a phase, something that I would grow out of. After all, who can live then" entire life without eating a hamburger, or the traditional turkey at Thanksgiving? Turns out lots of people can.

Much to my mother's dismay, I turned out to be one of thousands of vegetarians in Canada who were under voting age. Some people thought I did it to be cool, some people (like my mother) thought I did it for shock value. But I was always asked the one-word question: WHY?

Lots of reasons. I was never a big steak fan, loved animals, and when I was little I had a friend who lived on a dairy farm. If you have ever named a cow, you will understand how difficult it is to sit down to a hamburger. But there was, of course, one fateful encounter that pushed me to my dinner of destiny.

My mother had a friend named Jen. Jen had long brown hair down to her calves. I'm not exaggerating, it was down to her calves. She insisted we go to a natural food store in our town so she could get organic vegetables and soymilk. I had never even known what soy was, or that there was a difference between vegetables from the grocery store and vegetables from a natural food store. And I was amazed. Not only did she have hair down to her calves, but she also knew about foods I had never even heard of. My decision was made.

I feel very fortunate to be a vegetarian in an age where there are so many meat alternatives. My friends and family appreciate that I don't try to force my food choices on them.

If you are thinking about becoming a vegetarian, it's important to do a little research first and make sure you maintain a healthy diet. I have met so many junk-food vegetarians (a self-proclaimed vegetarian who doesn't eat meat, but doesn't eat anything healthy or remotely close to a vegetable), that I'm not surprised most people think eating vegetarian isn't healthy.

DISCOVERED: OLDEST WRITING IN THE NEW WORLD

Anthropologists study people (17)_____. Items those men, women, and children left behind when they died – (18)_____ – tell anthropologists a lot. And sometimes even their words survive.

Experts believe that a discovery in Mexico, near the capital city of ancient people called the Olmec, is the oldest example of writing that has ever been found in the Americas.

But experts don’t know exactly what the writing says. If you have ever tried to figure out a message written in code, you have a pretty good idea of the hard work ahead.

Finding other examples of Olmec writing could help crack the code. “We could have whole sets of ancient writing (22)_____,” says Houston. “There are many puzzles to be solved, and this is just one of them.”

- A who decide to study past cultures
  - B which is long before Columbus arrived in the new world
  - C who is an expert on the writing systems of ancient cultures
  - D that seem to show religious objects
